

Contacts:

Mary Brophy
mbrophy@jacobsonrost.com
(414) 220-4858

Samantha Colla
scolla@jacobsonrost.com
(312) 274-3353

Neenah Enterprises, Inc., Announces Three-Year Union Contract

NEENAH, WIS. (June 25, 2015) – Neenah Enterprises, Inc., (NEI) has finalized a three-year contract with members of the Glass, Molders, Pottery, Plastics and Allied Workers International Union representing employees at the Neenah Foundry plant. The new contract extends through March 18, 2018. Along with increased wages for laborers, the contract governs conditions that promote worker safety, product quality, cost reduction, and innovative engineering solutions to meet today’s complex manufacturing requirements.

“We’re committed to making NEI the easiest casting and forging supplier for customers to do business with,” said Tom Riordan, President and CEO of Neenah Enterprises, Inc. “This new contract strengthens that commitment and will help us realize our strategic vision to create a twenty-first century workforce with new opportunities for employees, high rates of productivity and a focus on our customers. We want to thank union leadership and our management team for their support in reaching this agreement.”

In recent years, NEI has made significant investments in a variety of lean processes and training programs for employees to promote a culture of continuous improvement, while developing value-added services for its customers. These investments include safety training and ergonomic improvements, Six Sigma training, Tier 1 supply management and Advanced Product Quality Planning (APQP) processes. In addition, NEI has made infrastructure and technology advancements that expand production capacity at its plants to nearly 350,000 tons.

NEI operates seven facilities across the U.S. including: Neenah Foundry in Neenah, Wis.; Advanced Cast Products in Meadville, Penn.; Mercer Forge in Mercer and Wheatland, Penn.; Dalton Corp. in Warsaw, Ind.; Deeter Foundry in Lincoln, Neb.; and CNC Machining Services in Stryker, Ohio.

About Neenah Enterprises, Inc.

Drawing on more than 140 years of manufacturing experience, Neenah Enterprises, Inc., (NEI), headquartered in Neenah, Wis., is a leader in producing durable castings for industrial sectors across the globe and is a key component provider for many of the world’s top manufacturing companies. NEI specializes in gray and ductile iron castings and forged steel products serving customers through its seven North American facilities. Auxiliary services include machining, painting and heat treatment. With thousands of employees working in a range of diverse fields, NEI’s Industrial division is a trusted design and engineering partner to the world’s leading manufacturing companies. For more information visit www.nfco.com.

#